

APPROVAL TO PURCHASE WHITE TONER PRINTER

Please see attached quote and explanation about purchasing a white toner printer for the Makery.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that Administrative Staff is authorized to purchase a white toner printer for the Makery at a cost not to exceed $5993.00.

Uninet iColor 560 White Toner Printer

What Does a White Toner Printer Do?

In short, a white toner printer gives us the ability to put full-color designs onto dark cotton garments.

This is made possible by the white toner: the printer lays down a layer of white that acts as a canvas for the rest of the colors in the design. This “canvas” is called an underprint.

Without the underprint, it would be like writing in red marker on black paper – nothing would show up.

Demand

In the Makery, putting full color designs on dark shirts or cotton shirts is one of the most common requests. We have explored several alternatives such as screen-printing and sublimation heat transfer vinyl. These options are low quality, too complex, or too difficult for the Makery's service model.

A white toner printer offers a simple, reliable, and affordable high-quality option. Makery staff got hands-on experience with this printer when we visited Indian Prairie Public Library this year. We all agreed that it is a great fit for our patrons and would enable us to say “yes” more often.
