At 'Read to the Dogs' Day

On Saturday, Feb. 12, the Elmhurst Public Library hosted an event called "Read to the Dogs," where children from the community were invited to read a book to visiting therapy dogs. Pictured here are the children of Betsy Cello, who provided photos from the event. It was a great way for the young people to learn about therapy dogs, what they do and who they are for. They discussed different types of training and uses/needs for therapy dogs with the dogs' owners.
