A Library Zombie Lock-in: A Spook-tacular Success!

Elmhurst, IL — On Saturday, October 20, the doors of the Elmhurst Public Library closed to the public and welcomed only the undead—zombies in grades 6-12. These brave souls got their faces painted zombie-style, played a spine-tingling game of humans vs. zombies (similar to Capture the Flag), and rattled their bones to Michael Jackson’s “Thriller” dance. They decorated Halloween cupcakes, created zombie self-portraits, and made casket creations. The evening ended with scary stories: Half-Minute Horrors, Cold Feet by Cynthia DeFelice, and Zombie in Love by Kelly DiPucchio—interrupted by Bob the janitor’s scary antics. A hauntingly horrific time was had by all!
